APPEALS TO THE FEDERAL CIRCUIT

Patent applicants should designate as appellants all named inventors in any notice of appeal to the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit when appealing a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

In a recent unpublished opinion in In re Deckert, Appeal No. 89-1386 (Fed. Cir. Nov. 29, 1989), the Federal Circuit notes:

> Deckert's co-inventors Couble and Bonnetti are not parties to this appeal because they were not specifically named in the notice of appeal. Fed. R. App. P. 15(a). See Torres v. Oakland Scavenger Co., 108 S. Ct. 2405, 2409 (1988) (construing similiar requirement of Fed. R. App. P. 3(c)).

Number of Demands for International Preliminary Examination filed by U. S. Applicants with the European Patent Office as an International Preliminary Examining Authority (IPEA/EP) as of November 30, 1989

Pursuant to the Memorandum of Understanding between the European Patent Office (EPO) and the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) concerning monitoring the number of Demands submitted to the IEPA/EP by U. S. applicants published in the Official Gazette at 1080 O.G. 2 on July 7, 1987, the number of Demands filed in the IPEA/EP by U. S. applicants who filed their international applications with the USPTO in its capacity as a Receiving Office as of November 30, 1989 was 330.

The Memorandum of Understanding between the EPO and the USPTO limits the number of Demands filed by U. S. applicants to 500 for the period of July 1, 1989 to June 30, 1990. The 500 limit is expected to be reached by the end of February 1990. Any Demands filed with the IPEA/EP after the limit of 500 has been reached will be forwarded to the USPTO for processing. Accordingly, applicants should file their Demands directly with the USPTO after the 500 limit has been reached.

The agreement calls for 500 Demands for International Preliminary Examination to be accepted by the IPEA/EP where the International Search Report has been prepared by the EPO between July 1, 1989 and June 30, 1990. The current agreement ends on June 30, 1990.

Questions and Answers

I. New Trademark Application Filing Requirements

The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988, which was implemented on Nov. 16, 1989, contains the most significant amendments to the Lanham Act since its enactment in 1947. The Patent and Trademark Office has significantly revised the Trademark Rules of Practice to reflect the changes in the law. Additionally, the PTO has issued a supplement to Revision 7 of the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure that reflects the changes in the law, rules, and Office policy and is available from the Government Printing Office.

The PTO's Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks has prepared a series of "Questions and Answers" about Office practice under the new law and rules. This first in the series concerns the requirements for the initial filing of an application. Subsequent "Questions and Answers" will address various examination issues, the statement of use, requests for extension of time to file the statement of use, the amendment to allege use and notice of allowance.

Q. What is an intent-to-use application?

A. The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 became effective on Nov. 16, 1989. It amended the Trademark Act to add a new basis for filing an application for Federal trademark registration on the Principal Register. A party with a bona fide intention to use a specific mark in commerce in relation to specific goods or services may now file an application. However, before the mark will be registered, the applicant must use the mark in commerce in connection with the specified goods or services and submit specimens evidencing use and a verified allegation concerning that use.

First, an intent-to-use application will be examined in relation to all substantive and procedural requirements, except use-related issues, and, if acceptable, published for opposition. If there is no opposition, or any opposition is resolved in the applicant's favor, the applicant will receive a notice of allowance.

The applicant must submit a statement of use within six months of that date, or request a six-month extension of time. The applicant may then request up to four additional six-month extensions of time in which to file the statement of use. The grant of such extensions is predicated, in part, upon the applicant's showing of "good cause" as to why the mark has not yet been used. Thus, an applicant may have up to 36 months from the mailing of the notice of allowance within which to file a statement of use. (See Trademark Rules 2.88 and 2.89 concerning the requirements for a statement of use and extension requests.) Upon filing, the statement of use will be examined and, if accepted, the mark will register.

Q. How does an intent-to-use application differ from an application based upon use in commerce?

A. The primary difference between the two types of applications is the basis for filing. Because of that difference, the filing requirements and processing of the two types of applications differ.

A party may not file an application based upon use of a mark in commerce until after that use has occured. Instead of asserting a bona fide intent to use the mark in commerce, the use-based application must include allegations concerning dates of use and specimens evidencing use as a filing requirement. The use-based application will be examined and, if acceptable, published for opposition. If the mark is not opposed, or any opposition is resolved in the applicant's favor, the mark will register. This procedure differs from the application procedure for an intent-to-use application, as noted above.

However, in all other respects the legal reasons for refusing registration (such as descriptiveness, likelihood of confusion, etc.) and the procedural requirements (such as specificity of identifications of goods, signature by applicant, etc.) are exactly the same for the two types of applications. Additionally, upon registration, the filing date of any application on the Principal Register is a constructive date of first use of the mark.

Q. What are the requirements for filing an intent-to-use application?

A. A complete intent-to-use application consists of a written application, a drawing of the mark, and the required filing fee for each class of goods. The requirements for a written intent-to-use application are set forth in Trademark Rule 2.33. The application must be made to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, must include a request for registration, and must be signed and verified (sworn to) by the applicant.

The application must specify: the name and address of the applicant; information about the applicant's legal entity; a claim that the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce; the particular goods or services on or in connection with which the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark; the class of goods or services according to the official classification, if known to the applicant; and the intended mode, manner or method of applying, affixing or otherwise using the mark on or in connection with the goods or services specified.

The applicant must sign a verfication of the application which includes, in part, averments that the applicant is believed to be entitled to use the mark sought to be registered; that to the best of the declarant's knowledge and belief no other entity has the right to use the mark in commerce, either in the identical form or in such near resemblance as to be likely, when applied to the goods or services of such other entity, to cause confusion, or to cause mistake, or to deceive; and that the facts set forth in the application are true.

Please note that Rule 2.33 differs form section 1(b) of the Act because the rule requires the above verification to include a statement that "the applicant is the owner of the mark" rather than that "the applicant believes it is entitled to use the mark." This specific requirement of the rule should be disregarded to the extent that it differs from the statute. The rule will be amended in due course.

Q. What are the minimum requirements for receipt of a filing date for an intent-to-use application?

A. Trademark Rule 2.21 sets forth the minimum requirements for receipt of a filing date for intent-to-use applications, as well as other types of applications. These minimum formal requirements do not include all of the requirements which may ultimately be necessary to obtain registration, but merely those which must be satisified to receive a filing date.

An intent-to-use application must include the following elements in order to receive a filing date: the name of the applicant, the name and address to which communications can be directed, a drawing of the mark substantially meeting all of the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.52, an identification of goods or services, a claim of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce, a verification or declaration under Trademark Rule 2.33(b) signed by the applicant, and the required filing fee for at least one class of goods or services. If an application lacks any one of these elements, it will be denied a filing date and all papers will be returned to the applicant as informal.

Q. Is there any change in the requirements for applications based upon either use in commerce or Section 44 of the Trademark Act?

A. Yes. Effective Nov. 16, 1989, an application must be signed in order to receive a filing date. Trademark Rule 2.21 has been amended to require that an application include a verification or declaration in accordance with Trademark Rule 2.33(b), signed by the applicant, to receive a filing date. This requirement applies to all applications filed after Nov. 16, 1989, regardless of the basis for filing. Unsigned applications will be returned to the applicant as informal. A verified assertion, signed by the applicant, of the basis for filing, is believed to be essential because of the importance of the filing date as a constructive date of first use of the mark for registration of the Principal Register.

All other filing requirements for use-based applications remain unchanged.

Concerning Section 44 which permits, under certain circumstances, the filing of an application in the United States based upon an application or registration in another country, there are two additional changes. Effective Nov. 16, 1989, an application filed under Section 44(d) or Section 44(e) of the Trademark Act must include an allegation that the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. However, Section 44 applicants will still be exempt from any use requirement as a condition to registration. In other words, Section 44 applicants are not required to file specimens evidencing use of the mark or an allegation of use in order to obtain registration.

As a requirement for obtaining a filing date, an application filed pursuant to Section 44(d) must include in the heading of the drawing the date of the foreign filing which forms the basis of its priority claim.

Q. Who can sign an application?

A. There are two issues that may arise with respect to the signature on an application: (1) whether the signature is sufficient for receipt of a filing date, and (2) whether the signature is that of the applicant.

The following persons can properly sign an application for an applicant: an individual applicant, a general partner of a partnership, or an officer of a corporation or association.

If an application is signed by an improper party, but the improper party had "color of authority" to act for applicant, the Office will require re-execution of the application, but will not invalidate the filing date. (See Trademark Rule 2.71(c) concerning "color of authority.") The Examining Attorney will determine whether the signatory had color of authority to sign the application for the applicant. A person has such color of authority if he or she has firsthand knowledge of the relevant facts and implied or actual authority to act on behalf of the applicant. A general manager may qualify under this standard. The applicant's attorney will not ordinarily be regarded as possessing color of authority to sign on behalf of a client. Attorneys, who are not employees of a corporate applicant, do not usually have firsthand knowledge of a client's business or the authority to act on behalf of a client, other than as legal representative.

If the signature is acceptable for the purpose of receiving a filing date (i.e., if the signatory had color of authority), but is not the signature of the applicant, a substitute verification by the applicant of the facts in the application will be required. If the person who signed did not have even color of authority, the Examining Attorney will refuse registration because the applicant did not meet the minimum requirements of Rule 2.21 for receipt of a filing date. An application signed by a party without color of authority is void ab initio and cannot be corrected by submission of a substitute declaration.

Q. Are "fax" copies of signatures acceptable?

A. The Trademark Operation does not have the equipment to accept documents transmitted by "fax" for purposes of receiving a filing date. However, the signature on a properly filed application may be a photocopy or "fax" copy of the original signature. The subsequent submission of the original document will be required by the Examining Attorney.

Q. What is the significance of the filing date?

A. Section 7 of the Trademark Act has been amended to provide that the filing date of an application of the Principal Register is a constructive date of first use of the mark in commerce, provided the application matures into a registration. Thus, filing affords the applicant nationwide priority over others, with the exception of parties who had used the mark before the applicant's filing date, parties who had filed before the applicant, or parties who are entitled to an earlier priority filing date based upon the filing of a foreign application under Section 44(d) of the Trademark Act.

Q. Can an application be based upon both use and intent-to-use?

A. No. Section 1(a) of the Trademark provides for the filing of applications based upon actual use in commerce, while Section 1(b) provides for the filing of applications based upon intent-to-use. Trademark Rule 2.33(d) states that an applicant may not file under both Sections 1(a) and 1(b) of the Act in a single application, nor may an applicant in an application under Section 1(a) of the Act amend to seek registration under Section 1(b). Any application filed under both Sections 1(a) and 1(b) of the Trademark Act will be denied a filing date and returned to the applicant.

Q. Can an applicant assert both a Section 44 claim and an intent-to-use or use claim in the same application?

A. Yes. Section 44(d) provides for applications based upon an application for registration filed in an applicant's country of origin, and section 44(e) provides for applications based upon a registration in applicant's country of origin. An application may be based upon both a foreign application or registration under Section 44 and either use in commerce under Section 1(a) or intent-to-use under Section 1(b).

Q. Since a Section 44 application contains a statement of a bona fide intent to use the mark in commerce, isn't this also an intent-to-use application?

A. No. The statement of a bona fide intent to use a mark is one of the statutory requirements for a Section 44 filing and the PTO will not consider the mere inclusion of such a statement to constitute the assertion of a basis for filing under Section 1(b) of the Act. In other words, once the requirements for Section 44 are met and the application successfully completes the opposition period, the mark will register (rather than a notice of allowance issuing in the application).

A Section 44 applicant may also assert an intent-to-use basis by explicitly stating, after its statement of a bona fide intent to use the mark in commerce, that it is also asserting a Section 1(b) basis for filing.

Q. Can an intent-to-use application be filed on the Supplemental Register?

A. No. An intent-to-use application initially filed on the Supplemental Register will be denied a filing date and returned to the applicant. No amendment of an intent-to-use application to the Supplemental Register will be accepted until after use has commenced and after the filing and acceptance of an amendment to allege use or a statement of use. In such a case, the effective filing date of the application will be changed to the date on which the applicant filed the amendment to allege use under Section 1(c) of the Trademark Act or the statement of use under Section 1(d) of the Act.

Q. Must an intent-to-use applicant begin using the mark before a registration will issue?

A. Yes. An intent-to-use application may not mature into a registration until use of the mark has begun. After use begins, the applicant must verify such use in either (1) an amendment to allege use or (2) a statement of use. In addition, applicant must submit specimens evidencing use and a fee of $100 per class of goods or services in the application.

Q. What is the difference between an amendment to allege use and a statement of use?

A. The primary difference between the amendment to allege use and the statement of use is the time of filing. The amendment to allege use may be filed during initial examination of the application, i.e., after the filing date of the application and before the date on which the Examining Attorney approves the mark for publication. If the amendment to allege use is accepted, the application will then be processed for publication and issuance in the same manner as a use-based application.

If no amendment to allege use is filed before the Examining Attorney approves the mark for publication, the mark will be published for opposition. After the successful completion of the opposition period, the PTO will issue a notice of allowance. The applicant will then have six months from the date of the notice of allowance in which it must file a statement of use, or file a written request for an extension of time in which to file the statement of use. Successive extensions of time, aggregating no more than 36 months from the notice of allowance, may be obtained pursuant to Trademark Rule 2.89.

Reference Collection of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to libary, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effctive access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System); which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collections among the PDLs and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is urged to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

MARKS PUBLISHED FOR OPPOSITION

The following marks are published in compliance with section 12(a) of the Trademark Act of 1946. Applications for the registration of marks in more than one class have been filed as provided in section 30 of said act as amended by Public Law 772, 87th Congress, approved Oct. 9, 1962, 76 Stat. 769. Opposition under section 13 may be filed within thirty days of the date of this publication. See rules 2.101 to 2.105.

A separate fee of two hundred dollars for opposing each mark in each class must accompany the opposition.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
